1. RESOURCES AND SUPPORT

RIOT WORKSHOPS AT BIO21
Research Integrity Online Training (RIOT) workshops in Data Management and Publication and Communication are being held at Bio21 on 16 and 25 August 2016, respectively. Join discipline-specific experts, the Australian National Data Service, and research integrity staff in a practical skills-based session to coach your research skills. All research students and early career staff from science and related disciplines (whether at Bio21 or elsewhere) are welcome. Limited places. More information and registration: http://go.unimelb.edu.au/u8ba

2. EVENTS, FORUMS, PERFORMANCES, SEMINARS AND EXHIBITIONS

★ THE UNIVERSITY’S STUDENT RADIO STATION IS SEEKING RHD STUDENTS
The University’s student radio station is seeking postgraduate research students at masters or PhD level doing interesting or engaging work for an interview. A new show entitled ‘PhD: Probably Heavily in Debt’ will be interviewing a different guest research student each week to discuss both their work and academic pathway. The aims of this show are twofold: Firstly, to give postgrad students an opportunity to share their work and breakdown often very technical and jargon-filled research into accessible language. Secondly, to demonstrate to undergraduate listeners what kind of learning pathways are open to them, what kinds of interesting things are going on around campus that they wouldn’t normally hear about, and how they may continue working at the University. The idea is to break down some of the mystery of postgraduate study for undergrads and stimulate interesting discussion in the process. The show has already featured Dr Alex McCluskey on environmental hydraulics and PhD candidate Wences Shaw-Cortez on prosthetic technology. Enquiries can be directed to finbar.piper@gmail.com or 0490356398.
RESEARCHER@LIBRARY SESSION: "THE FUTURE IS NOW"
Ginny Barbour, Exec Officer of the Australasian OA Strategy Group and Chair of COPE, the Committee of Publication Ethics, will talk about trends in scholarly communications in "The Future is Now"
