★ Music On The Mind Seminar Series @ The Melbourne Recital Centre – Music & Consumer Behaviour

What: The next seminar as part of the Music on the Mind Series will be presented by Professor Adrian North, Head of the School of Psychology and Speech Pathology at Curtin University. The seminar, ‘The tills are alive with the sound of muzak: effects of in-store music on consumer behaviour and attitudes’, will present an overview of some of the many effects of music that have been identified through research, and their commercial implications.

When: Monday 30 September, 6.00 – 7.00pm

Where: Salon, Melbourne Recital Centre, Southbank Boulevard, Southbank

Further information: Bookings and more>>

★ Orientation for Graduate Researchers

What: The last MSGR Orientation day for 2013 is coming up in October. It’s the perfect opportunity to meet graduate researchers from across the university and to get information about important issues like thesis writing, candidature administration, literature research and graduate research advocacy. Refreshments will be provided and registration is essential.

Date: Thursday 10 October 2013

Further information: http://gradresearch.unimelb.edu.au/programs/orientation/

2. Resources and Support

★ Vicnode Research Data Storage – Now Open

What: Storage for research data collections is now available at VicNode via the Research Data Storage Infrastructure merit allocation scheme. The scheme runs until September 2014 and researchers from all disciplines are encouraged to apply. VicNode is the Victorian arm of the national RDSI project.

Further Information: http://vicnode.org.au/

Moving Pictures, Optical Entertainments and the Advent of Cinema – Current Trial

What: Victorian and Edwardian visual entertainments are the focus of this database, which includes early optics and photography, panoramas, magic lantern shows, motion pictures and ephemera. The material is from the Bill Douglas Centre for the History of Cinema and Popular Culture, the largest research centre for cinema history in the UK.

Trial ends 20 September 2013

Human Research Ethics

What: There are only two further human research ethics meetings for 2013 at VCA and at MCM. VCA deadlines are September 23rd and October 21st. MCM deadlines are September 16th and October 14th. The September deadline has been brought forward slightly because Themis is unavailable for a week due to an upgrade. Please visit the Faculty and VCA or MCM-specific human research ethics webpages for further detail and resources to assist in developing an application. Researchers planning on collecting material for their research projects over the summer should apply in these rounds, as ethics meetings are only held during semester time.

Social Practice in the Arts: practice-as-research seminars
What: This year the Centre for Cultural Partnerships has relaunched the ‘Culture and Community Research Network’ seminars, reorienting them to the growing prevalence and resonance of ‘social practice’ across the arts and community art. We aim to be relevant for MFA, PhD and other emerging researchers who have an interest in participatory, relational and socially-engaged practices. This includes methodological explorations of artistic, sensory and collaborative practices in conducting, generating and representing research. Seminars will be followed by an invitation to continue informal discussions over drinks and food nearby. All welcome! These seminars are public events. September speakers are:

17 September: Barb Bolt
Barb is an artist and academic, with an interest in visual art, philosophy, new materialism and ethics. She is an Associate Professor and Associate Dean at VCAMCM, University of Melbourne.

24 September: Alyson Campbell
Alyson is a theatre practitioner and researcher, with interests in dramaturgy, gender and queer theory and performance. She is a Senior Lecturer in Theatre at VCAMCM, University of Melbourne.

AAANZ Call for Volunteers

What: AAANZ are calling for Volunteers to help with running the 2013 AAANZ CONFERENCE INTER-DISCIPLINE to be held at the VCA on December 7 – 9, 2013. The conference will focus on the theme, ‘inter-discipline’, which explores the past, present, future of Art, including its practices, threats and histories. The conference theme encourages critical perspectives that challenges the term, ‘inter-disciplinary’, inviting innovative research on the practice of art – what it means to work between, under, through and without discipline; research and discipline; threats and promises; ‘Interdiscipline’ invites a broad set of practitioners, independent scholars, interdisciplinary artists, curators, museum educators, students and higher degree researchers across the fields of Architecture, Design, Art, Art History & Theory, Curatorship and Museum Studies, to address and participate in key issues of concern and points of intersection between the disciplines.

If you a studying or researching in the fields of Architecture, Design Art, Art History and Theory, Curatorship and/or Museum Studies volunteering offers you an opportunity to “meet and greet” some of the foremost practitioner and theorists in the field.

What you will get for volunteering:

- Automatic free registration for the conference;
- Attendance at all conference sessions (some of which you will oversee and provide the technical support);
- Attendance at the two keynote lectures:
  - Professor Irit Rogoff (Goldsmiths, University of London) on Saturday 7th; and
  - Professor David Joselit (Yale University) on Monday the 9th;
- Attendance at the social networking party at the RMIT Hub building on Sunday 8th;
- Morning tea, afternoon tea and lunch on Sunday 8 and Monday 9 December.

If you are interested, please contact Purnima Ruanglertbutr, @ conf@aaanz.info by September 20th, 2013. Please include a short bio with in registration of interest.

Please visit the VCA-MCM webpage to find out what else is on at the VCA and MCM.

4. Funding and Research Opportunities

Faculty Small Grant Scheme

What: This scheme has now closed for 2013 and the rounds for 2014 have not yet been set by the Faculty Research Committee. When they are confirmed, they will be promoted in this bulletin and through the FSGS webpage available through the Research Office webpages. Masters can apply for up to $1,500 and PhDs $3,000 in total throughout their candidature and must be passed the Formal Review or Confirmation stage of their candidature. Graduate researchers who have research costs (such as fieldwork costs or the costs of presenting your own research at conferences or shows) between now and then are advised to keep your tax invoices and apply for reimbursement in the next round.

Post Doctoral Research Fellowships

What: Post-doctoral research fellowships are available at the Centre of Excellence for the History of Emotions, University of Melbourne. The closing date is 19 September 2013. Position details:

- Postdoctoral Fellow (Three year appointment - Position number 0031917): In collaboration with the School of Historical and Philosophical Studies, University of Melbourne, the Centre seeks to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow to contribute to research projects in the history of emotions (Europe, 1100-1800). Working together with Professor Charles Zika and the Change Program of the Centre, the successful candidate will develop a project exploring the impact of deeply felt emotional experiences and rhetoric in stimulating and shaping group understanding and response to disasters faced by Europeans between the late fifteenth and the late seventeenth centuries. The project might focus on responses to such phenomena as plague, fire or war, or natural disasters such as earthquake, famine or flood. It might explore such ritual, literary and/or visual responses as mechanisms for achieving relief or solidarity when facing the terrifying impact of destructive events, and the immediate as well as longer term implications for models of communal life, organisation and meaning. For full details, click here.

- Postdoctoral Fellow (Three year appointment - Position number 0031918): In collaboration with the School of Culture and Communication at The University of Melbourne, the Centre seeks to appoint a Postdoctoral Fellow to a three-year research appointment in one of its four research programs, “Shaping the Modern Program.” Working with the program convenor, Professor Stephanie Trigg, and Senior Research Fellow, Dr Grace Moore, the successful candidate will develop a multi-disciplinary research project on emotions and the environment that extends the Centre’s research in the period 1100-1800 into the modern era, with a special emphasis on Australia’s relationship with its European emotional past, and the emotional continuities and discontinuities between pre-modern Europe and Australian settler culture. The project will explore affective, emotional responses to landscapes, environment, ecology or place, by European settlers and migrants. For full details, click here.

ARC Laureate Fellow Seminar

What: The next round of the Australian Research Council Laureate Fellowships scheme is due to open in mid-November this year with an expected close date of the 31st January 2014. The Laureate Fellowship scheme is a prestigious funding opportunity for outstanding researchers at the top of their field. Please visit the ARC’s website for further information about Australian Laureate Fellowships. An information session for prospective applicants will be held on Tuesday 24th September from 2.30-3.30 in room 102, Level 1, Alan Gilbert Building and interested applicants should attend. The session will involve information about what to expect from the application process, key success factors, how successful applicants develop their proposals, and the support available to ensure that proposals are as competitive as possible. Speakers include Professor Margaret Sheil, Provost and former CEO of the ARC, and the two successful Laureate Fellows from the 2013 round Professors Lloyd Hollenberg and Peter Taylor.

Please register to attend and for further details, please contact Gen Ford.

Research Professional Online Database and upcoming Training

What: Research Professional is a comprehensive database of national and international funding opportunities that are only available to Australian researchers. The website also provides expert advice on writing research proposals. Every 2 months Research Professional runs a 60 minute online training broadcast, aimed at introducing users to the basics of creating and configuring a personal account on Research Professional, as well as introducing the features of the platform. These sessions are open to anyone at a subscribing institution. Attendees can view the session from their own computer, and will be able to ask questions via text chat. Each session covers:
* Self registration and logging in
* Building searches
* Setting personalised alerts
* Saving and bookmarking items
* Subscribing to news alerts
* Configuring your personal profile

The training sessions for 2013 are scheduled for:
- Friday 25th October, 10.00 AM - 11.00 AM: https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/569002033
- Friday 13th December, 11.00 AM - 12.00 AM: https://www1.gotomeeting.com/register/715394424

Further Information:

Please visit the Melbourne Grants Bulletin for more information about research grants, information sessions and the latest research news.
Please note that there are various University requirements applying to the submission of external research grant applications such as the ones listed above. Please visit ‘Find and Apply’ on the Melbourne Research Office Research Grants webpage and carefully follow the instructions for the relevant type of grant.

5. Conferences

Rethinking Interdisciplinary Collaboration: Towards New Ethical Paradigms in Music/Health Research
What: This conference seeks to explore the nature of research into the relationship between music, health and wellbeing. It will investigate how research and practice might become more inclusive, and therefore more ethical, through collaborative endeavours by bringing together researchers, practitioners, and students from various disciplines including: music (neuro) psychology; music therapy; applied/medical (ethno) musicology; music sociology and anthropology to encourage the re-thinking of research methodologies and epistemologies and practices. Papers and posters will be presented on the conference themes:
- What are the historical, philosophical and educational differences between research methodologies and disciplines and how do they impact on research ethics?
- What are the paradigmatic and methodological challenges that must be considered before true collaboration can occur (and what is the nature of ‘true’ collaboration)?
- What are the ethical dangers of allowing any one model of knowledge production to dominate another?
- Case studies show-casing instances where culturally appropriate research methodologies and/or approaches were used to promote and investigate music, health and wellbeing
- Pedagogic or practice-based examples of the need for culturally appropriate approaches
- Cross-cultural, quantitative studies investigating the relationship between ‘culture’, music and the human organism.

Conference Dates: 19 October 2013
Where: Goldsmiths College, London, United Kingdom

Spectres of Evaluation Conference: Early Bird Registrations Open
What: Taking its cue from the artwork Spectre of Evaluation (Thomas Hirschhorn, 2008) www.e-flux.com/announcements/art-and-politics-as-usual, the conference looks to reconfigure the relationship between artists, art experts, and what the artist terms the “non-exclusive audience.” Today, the making of art is haunted by spectres of evaluation, with competing claims and judgments about the limits, uses, and value of art. This international conference examines creative and critical approaches to evaluation and value in relation to community-engaged arts practice. This conference marks the culmination of a 3 year Australian Research Council-funded Linkage project “Towards an Integrated Approach for Evaluating Community-based Arts” with investigators Dr Lachlan MacDowall (University of Melbourne), Dr Martin Mulligan (RMIT University), Frank Panucci (Australia Council for the Arts) and Dr Marnie Badham as Research Fellow (University of Melbourne). Keynote speakers include artists and academics, with more names to be released soon. Speaker highlights include:

• Dr Sophie Hope (UK), Artist/Researcher/Academic (pictured above)
• Ted Purves, (USA), Artist/Researcher/Academic
• Tania Bruguera (CUBA/USA), Artist

This international arts conference is presented by The Centre for Cultural Partnerships, VCA & MCM, University of Melbourne & Footscray Community Arts Centre.

Conference Dates: 6-7 February 2014
Early Bird registrations close on 18th October 2013
Registration Fees: Two-day registration: Artist/Student/underemployed: AU$99.00
Further information: www.spectresofevaluation.com
