Wellness Week 2014

Following its success in 2014, Wellness Week will once again take place on the Parkville campus from August 24th-28th. The aim of Wellness Week is to provide opportunities for students to experience new, healthy activities and promote positive techniques for self-care. The response from the university community has been extremely positive, and there are 50 free health-focused events for students planned for the week. Activities include yoga, group fitness, healthy breakfasts and lunches, educational workshops, games, massage, movies, meditation, stress-less puppies and more. The week will culminate in a Wellness Carnival on the South Lawn on Thursday 27th which should attract a large number of students. The Wellness Week 2015 Communications Plan began this week, with images and information visible throughout the campus via LCD screens, social media posts, the student portal etc. In addition, the Wellness Week website (link below) is now live and includes the full program of events.

Change to research student partner leave entitlement

The Graduate Research Candidature Procedure (MPG1281) section 6. Parental leave has been updated. The leave entitlement for a graduate research student who is eligible for partner leave has changed from 12 months to 8 weeks. An eligible graduate research student is defined as: the partner of a primary carer of either a new-born or a newly adopted child under the age of 16 years.

Update to Supervision of Research Higher Degrees Student Policy

The Supervision of Research Higher Degrees Student Policy (MPF1244) has been updated. Under section 1. Appointment of supervisors three new sub-sections have been included:

Under section 7, Eligibility to supervise a subsection has changed:

7.3 has been updated to include that final approval of the appointment of an external supervisor to a student’s supervisory team is the responsibility of the Head of the Administrative Department (or their nominee).

It is recommended that staff involved in the supervision of graduate research students and the approval of supervision arrangements review these policy changes.

Research Office Locations

The Research Office is located in Room 210 in the Conservatorium of Music, Building 141, Gate 12, Royal Parade in addition to our Southbank Campus location in the Old Police Hospital, Building 865, 234 St. Kilda Road.

2. Resources and Support

Researcher profiles: Managing your digital ID - Seminar @ Parkville

What: Researcher profiles make it easy for funders, collaborators and colleagues to find you. These online author identifiers can ensure that your work is correctly attributed, remove author ambiguity, and showcase the impact of your research. In this seminar, we will discuss ORCID, Researcher ID, Scopus and Google Scholar profiles. This session is designed for academic authors and graduate researchers who have started to publish

When: Thursday 20 August, 1.15-2pm

Where: Baillieu Library, Dulcie Hollyock Room

Further Information: You can book for this seminar here. For further research related classes and seminars on offer at the library check here.

Attention Fine Arts HDR students undertaking practice led research degrees

What: Artists undertaking a practice led research degree are invited to volunteer to participate in a research project titled:

“How can academic information literacy librarians support the information needs of visual arts higher degree students undertaking practice led research?

The study will investigate the information needs and behaviours of practice led Fine Arts PhD/Masters research students. Therefore, to participate you need to be currently undertaking this degree. The study is to be conducted by myself, Tanya Wilson, Senior Liaison Librarian at Melbourne University and Masters student, Charles Sturt University.

Further information: If you wish to find out more, please contact me on 0488 186 973, or email me at chimonade@gmail.com. I can talk to you about the project and send you out an information sheet with more details before you commit to participate.

PERFORMART ’15 – Performance Arts Conference

What: PERFORMART Conference takes lead from the ever-existing relation between the performing arts and public space and focuses mostly on the culminating new performing arts events, festivals, celebrations that use public space, and concentrates on the confrontations, problems and opportunities between the two. However, it also wants to explore the exchange and dialogue between the designated spaces for performing arts such as theatre venues, theatre halls, alternative performing arts spaces and public space. PERFORMART also encourages the participants to reflect upon various possible takes on the term “public space” rather than considering it a mere physical space/venue.

When: Saturday, 19 to Sunday, 20 December
Where: Istanbul, Turkey
Further Information: http://www.performartconference.org/2013/08/call-for-papers.html
Coordinated by İstanbul Bilgi University, Management of Performing Arts Department and DAKAM (Eastern Mediterranean Academic Research Center), and organized by BILSAS /Science Art, Sport Productions)
